Our Gift to You ...

Welcome to the Holiday Guide special section of The Source Newspaper. Yes, this entire section is devoted to area events and happenings this holiday season, plus places to shop. Take your time and look through the advertisements for the many local events through the end of the year in our communities. Plus, the chronological calendar listing will help to guide you in planning for this busy time of year.

Enjoy the many wonders and gatherings that our community has to offer. Take note of how much we can buy locally to support area businesses, organizations, groups and services. The Source wants to help you know where to go and what to do this winter. Go ahead and set this section aside; keep it as a resource ... as a Holiday Guide.

Sincerely,

The Source Newspaper

Jacksonville Main Street recognizes volunteers

Jacksonville Main Street’s FundFest, held October 8, 2022, in Central Park was a resounding success!

Captain Geech and the Shrimp Shack Shooters donated the concert as part of a fundraiser benefit for the family of long-time Mason Sound employee, Doug Warcup, which Jacksonville Main Street supporters donated to in order for the concert to be held downtown with free admission to the public. Thanks to the sponsors (Brian Nyberg Construction, Executive Transportation, Don’s Place, Dominic Casey Re-Max, Brent Theatrical Lighting, Hopper RV, The Little Stove, Shanan Casey, Melissa Gerard, Oscar Tipword), and Captain Geech and the Shrimp Shack Shooters for making the day possible.

The Jacksonville-based band played for 3 hours to raise funds to kick-start the 2023 Downtown Concert Season after Jacksonville Main Street award winners were announced for 2020 and 2021. Concert attendees filled the entire Central Park and enjoyed patronizing many businesses downtown throughout the day.

Because Jacksonville Main Street was not able to host its annual awards banquet due to the pandemic, regular awards noting outstanding service and support to downtown and Jacksonville Main Street were not publicly announced for 2020 or 2021. The recipient of the Kristan Becker Hoffman Volunteer of the Year Award for 2020 was Taylor Zoerner and Albert Evans received the honor for 2021. Jacksonville Main Street’s Business of the Year for 2020 was Walmart store 200 – Bryan Neeley manager and Jessica Richardson Graphic Design was named for 2021. The Tom Grojean Community Spirit Award for 2020 went to Randy Springer and the 2021 award went to Cory Garner. Doug Pagel received a special “Get ‘R Done” award, while Bill Mayes was recognized for his retirement after 42 years of service in downtown maintenance for the City of Jacksonville. Terry Chumley was congratulated on his retirement from City service with a Legacy Award. Tom Winner also received a Legacy Award for many years of service on Jacksonville Main Street’s Board of Directors.

Pumpkin Festival a downtown fall favorite

Jacksonville Main Street's Pumpkin Festival was held October 22 from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. on the square in downtown Jacksonville. Some highlights of the event were a pumpkin drop, petting zoo, pet costume contest, kids' crafts, kid costume contest, pumpkin pie eating contest and various pumpkin games. The fall festival was $10 per participant, which allowed one to partake in all activities. The day was fun for all.

Vorreyer has overseen tremendous growth in the golf programs during her tenure including having Women's Golf finish second in the SLIAC Conference Championship just a few weeks ago while the men finished third in the conference championship this past Spring.

Jacksonville Area Hall of Fame Inductions Resume in 2023: An organization that recognizes people for their significant contributions to the area has been revived. The Jacksonville Area Hall of Fame was established in 1990 and has previously inducted 65 people into the Hall. In 2023 another group of community leaders will be added to the hall, the first new additions since 2012.

Commented chair of the Jacksonville Area Hall of Fame Committee John Buchanan, "Our community has been and continues to be fortunate to have many strong community leaders who give of their time and energy. The Hall of Fame is an opportunity to provide well-earned recognition of their many contributions to the Jacksonville area."

Due to the passing of several members of the Hall's original board of directors, the organization had become inactive. Earlier this year, Mr. Buchanan gathered a group of people with the goal of reviving the awards. The organization plans to begin accepting nominations for the 2023 inductees in January and to host an induction event in early June 2023.
